TO: The Honorable Board of Police Commissioners

FROM: Commanding Officer, Commission Investigation Division

SUBJECT: THE 2025 PHILANTHROPY REPORT

RECOMMENDED ACTION

It is recommended that the Board of Police Commissioners REVIEW and APPROVE the attached 2025 Philanthropy Report.

DISCUSSION

Commission Investigation Division (CID) is the regulatory arm of the Board of Police Commissioners (Board) and is responsible for the investigation and issuance of Board permits, contract administration, and charitable oversight within the City of Los Angeles. The Charitable Services Section (CSS) of CID is comprised of four civilian professionals responsible for oversight and regulation of charitable organizations and bingo games within the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles Police Department.

Under the mandate established within Los Angeles Municipal Code Section 44.02(a)3, CID is proud to present the 2025 Philanthropy report as a means to inform the public of the facts regarding charitable solicitations within the City of Los Angeles.

For additional information regarding this report, please contact Tatiana Santa Cruz, Officer-in-Charge, CSS, CID, at (213) 996-1260.

Respectfully,

The Board of Police Commissioners serves as the civilian governing authority of the Los Angeles Police Department. It exercises regulatory oversight pursuant to the City Charter and applicable provisions of the Los Angeles Municipal Code (LAMC).

The Board consists of five civilian Commissioners appointed by the Mayor and confirmed through established City governance processes. The inclusion of civilian leadership reflects a deliberate commitment to independent oversight, transparency, and public trust.

This report supports the Board's oversight responsibilities by presenting regulatory outcomes, compliance trends, and policy considerations related to charitable solicitation and charitable gaming activities occurring within the City of Los Angeles.

The Charitable Services Section (CSS) is responsible for administering and enforcing the registration, licensing, and regulatory requirements outlined in Chapter IV of the Los Angeles Municipal Code, which governs charitable solicitations and bingo operations within the City of Los Angeles. This report is prepared in accordance with LAMC § 44.02(a)(3).

Foreword

In January 2025, the Los Angeles region was struck by a catastrophic firestorm, a generational disaster that devastated entire communities and tested the resilience of our city. In the face of this crisis, Angelenos and supporters across the nation stepped forward with extraordinary generosity. This collective charity helped sustain our neighbors, support recovery efforts, and place Los Angeles firmly on the path to rebuilding.

Charitable giving embodies the civic spirit and the shared responsibility that define this city. Each contribution reflects a personal act of trust, faith, and hope, supporting thousands of meaningful causes that strengthen the social fabric of Los Angeles.

Consistent city oversight plays a vital role in maintaining that trust. By ensuring that charitable organizations comply with established standards, the Commission reinforces public confidence and supports a fair, transparent philanthropic environment. Safeguards that are clearly administered and consistently applied benefit both donors and nonprofit organizations alike. Preserving public trust remains essential to sustaining the human connection at the heart of philanthropy.

This year's philanthropy report provides the information necessary for Angelenos to make informed decisions and ensure their hard-earned dollars support the causes that matter to them most. The strongest charities are those that embrace transparency and direct the greatest possible share of resources toward their mission. Despite significant staffing reductions, the Charitable Services Section continues to work diligently to promote accountability and uphold these standards. This report reflects that commitment.

Charitable Services Section

The Charitable Services Section (CSS) administers and enforces regulatory requirements governing charitable solicitation and charitable bingo activities pursuant to Chapter IV of the Los Angeles Municipal Code.

Municipal regulatory oversight refers to the act of solicitation within the City of Los Angeles. It does not extend to nonprofit program administration, grantmaking decisions, or internal or organizational operations unrelated to solicitation activity.

CSS regulates:

- Registration of charitable organizations conducting solicitation activity.
- Licensing and permitting of Commercial Professional Fundraisers and Commercial Solicitors.
- Issuance of Information Cards authorizing solicitation.
- Oversight, auditing, and fee collection of charitable bingo operations.

A core function of the CSS is the verification of compliance and organizational legitimacy. The Section reviews governing documents, formation records, IRS determinations, contractual agreements, and required disclosures to confirm legal status and eligibility. Background reviews include Live Scan submissions and evaluation of mandated Reports of Results to ensure continued adherence to municipal requirements.

Beyond licensing, CSS provides broader regulatory oversight of charitable fundraising and gaming practices. The Section analyzes operational outcomes and prepares reports summarizing compliance activity, licensing trends, and enforcement results to support policy evaluation and informed decision-making. These efforts promote transparency, deter unauthorized solicitation, and protect public confidence in charitable activity conducted within the City of Los Angeles.

The 2025 Regulatory Summary

The totals presented in this report represent more than numerical output — they reflect the underlying data, compliance reviews, investigative work, and regulatory analysis that inform each authorization and outcome.

963 Notice of Intentions (NOIs)

Charitable organizations must submit an NOI application to CSS to be considered for issuance of an Information Card.

904 Information Cards

An Information Card is the document that authorizes a charitable organization or agency to solicit charitable contributions within the City of Los Angeles.

834 Report of Results (RoRs)

The Report of Results (RoRs) are the reports of financial activities (outcome) of the charitable solicitation events or campaigns.

Gross Receipts Reported

$2,938,418,157

In 2025, charitable organizations that submitted RORs accounted for almost $3 billion in gross receipts dedicated to charitable efforts. While this figure reflects a strong level of participation, ongoing efforts aim to increase reporting compliance to provide an even more comprehensive picture of charitable impact across the City.

Policy Considerations

Intermediary Fundraising Models

The evolution of intermediary-led fundraising reflects a changing philanthropic landscape and presents new regulatory questions rather than enforcement conclusions.

Historically, solicitation regulations focused on direct appeals conducted by identifiable organizations within municipal boundaries. Increasingly, fundraising occurs through layered structures involving digital platforms, donor-advised funds, fiscal sponsors, and national promotional campaigns.

Municipal oversight regulates solicitation activity occurring within Los Angeles regardless of whether fundraising messaging originates locally or through national platforms. However, intermediary models may blur distinctions between promotional activity, grantmaking administration, and downstream fundraising conducted by recipient organizations.

Emerging Policy Consideration

When localized messaging targets Los Angeles residents but donation processing occurs through national platforms, determining which entity functions as the solicitor may require updated regulatory interpretation.

Case Study: Charitable Solicitation during the Palisades Fire

In the aftermath of the 2025 Los Angeles wildfire events, several large-scale philanthropic initiatives emerged across entertainment-driven campaigns and national donation platforms. Although publicly framed as a disaster-relief effort, the initiative operated through a distributed solicitation and re-granting model in which funds were aggregated via concerts, livestream donation links, celebrity endorsements, and philanthropic partnerships, then routed through intermediary entities for redistribution to nonprofit organizations engaged in recovery and community support.

Disaster-driven fundraising environments create heightened vulnerability to fraud, skimming, and misdirection of proceeds. Donors often give quickly, emotionally, and at scale, while intermediaries may retain funds before passing them to beneficiary organizations. This urgency, combined with diffuse solicitation structures, can obscure the flow of funds, weaken donor visibility, and complicate municipal oversight.

Several regulatory and compliance considerations emerged within this fundraising ecosystem:

- Public perception and endorsement risk: Various efforts lacked a formal City partnership agreement, yet donors may reasonably infer municipal endorsement, regulatory approval, or oversight.
- Intermediary opacity: Funds were routed through multiple entities (e.g., production companies, fiscal sponsors, donor-advised funds, and national platforms) before reaching the end-recipients. Each additional layer increases the risk of administrative skimming or diversion of proceeds.
- Unclear donor intent alignment: Broad messaging such as “wildfire relief” or “help Los Angeles rebuild” may not reflect the specific programs ultimately funded. Without clear disclosures, donors cannot verify whether contributions supported immediate relief, long-term recovery, unrelated programming, or general operating expenses.
- Fee structures and revenue sharing: Entertainment-driven campaigns often involve production costs, platform fees, payment-processor charges, and promotional expenses. When not transparently disclosed, these deductions can significantly reduce the amount delivered to charitable beneficiaries.

These factors illustrate the compliance challenges inherent in large-scale, rapidly mobilized disaster-relief fundraising. They underscore the importance of clear disclosures, consistent municipal oversight, and public education to protect donors and maintain confidence in charitable activity conducted within the City of Los Angeles.

Endorsed Agencies

The Endorsed Agency designation recognizes organizations that demonstrate sustained compliance with regulatory requirements under LAMC §44.15(a).

Endorsement confirms adherence to specified criteria, including regulatory filings, governance standards and financial allocation thresholds.

To obtain and maintain Endorsed Agency status, organizations must submit an annual Application for Endorsement and undergo a comprehensive compliance review conducted under the authority of the Board of Police Commissioners. This review evaluates operational practices, fundraising activity, and adherence to applicable Municipal Code provisions governing charitable solicitations. Agencies must also demonstrate good standing with relevant state oversight entities, including the California Department of Justice's Registry of Charities and Fundraisers, the California Secretary of State, and the California Franchise Tax Board. As part of the endorsement criteria, agencies are required to allocate a minimum of eighty percent (80%) of solicited funds toward the charitable purposes for which the donations were represented to the public.

Endorsed Agencies receive several administrative and informational benefits designed to support compliant operations while improving public awareness. The designation “Endorsed Agency” appears on the organization’s Information Card, signaling that the agency has met the Department’s compliance standards. Endorsed Agencies may receive expedited processing of Notices of Intention and Reports of Results, and they are highlighted in Charitable Services Section publications, including the Annual Philanthropy Report, public service announcements, and listings on the LAPDONLINE.org website. In addition, the Endorsed Agency list is made available to members of the public who seek guidance regarding organizations that have demonstrated a consistent record of regulatory compliance, thereby assisting donors in making informed and confident giving decisions.

Registered Organizations - 2025

The receipt and expense information presented in this report is self-reported by the charitable organizations. These figures are subject to additional review or audit by CID. Any absence of data indicates that the organization did not submit a Report of Results prior to the publication of this report. The expense ratio reflects the portion of total receipts used for administrative and operating costs. A lower ratio indicates that a greater share of funds were directed to the charitable purpose.

Bingo Oversight

Bingo is a game of chance that constitutes gambling under State Law. However, specific charitable or recreational bingo is permitted when properly registered with the Board of Police Commissioners. Eligible nonprofit organizations may conduct bingo activities subject to licensing requirements, operational limitations, and financial reporting obligations.

Charitable bingo serves as a fundraising mechanism through which qualified nonprofit, religious, or community-based organizations may generate revenue to support their programs and services. Eligible beneficiaries commonly include schools, churches, veterans' organizations, social service providers, and other charitable entities. The activity is regulated to ensure that the primary purpose remains philanthropic rather than entertainment-driven profit.

The charitable organization itself is responsible for organizing and conducting the bingo games. Typically, this includes entities recognized as nonprofit organizations under federal law, such as those holding 501(c)(3) status. While limited operational costs — including venue expenses, equipment, and administrative support — may be covered by bingo revenues, the Municipal Code requires that net proceeds be directed toward the organization's charitable purposes.

Transparency and accountability are central to the City's regulation of charitable bingo. Participating organizations are expected to maintain accurate financial records and provide reports to regulatory authorities demonstrating that bingo activities are conducted lawfully and that funds are used solely to support charitable programs. This regulatory structure reflects the City's intent to permit limited "soft gambling" activities only where they serve a clear public benefit and operate within a controlled compliance framework designed to protect participants, donors, and the broader community.

Senior Recreational Bingo

Senior Recreational Bingo is a limited charitable gaming activity authorized under the Los Angeles Municipal Code to support social engagement and recreational programming for older adults. Unlike traditional charitable bingo conducted as a fundraising mechanism, Senior Bingo is designed primarily to promote community participation, reduce social isolation, and provide structured recreational opportunities within senior centers and similar facilities.

The Charitable Services Section administers regulatory oversight of Senior Bingo by issuing licenses, monitoring operational activity, and reviewing the required financial and attendance reporting. Participating senior centers must comply with municipal guidelines governing authorized locations, prize limitations, and reporting requirements to ensure that activities remain consistent with their intended recreational purpose.

Activity Summary

During the 2025 reporting period, CSS monitored Senior Bingo operations across multiple locations throughout the City of Los Angeles. The following data reflects regulatory activity and participation levels reported by authorized senior centers:

Give Wisely

Tips for Safe and Informed Charitable Donations

Give with Intention, Not Emotion

- Take a moment before donating—especially during high-profile disasters or emotional appeals.
- Pause, verify, and choose organizations that align with your values and have a proven track record of responsible stewardship.

Do Your Research

- Look up the charity through reputable oversight agencies or online websites.
- Review their mission, financial reports, and how donations are used.
- Be cautious of organizations with vague descriptions or limited public information.

Watch out for “Sound-Alike” Charities

- Some organizations use names similar to well-known charities to create confusion.
- If approached by a solicitor, ask to see their official Information Card and contact the charity directly to verify they are authorized to collect on its behalf.

Protect Your Personal and Financial Information

- Never give credit card numbers, bank information, or other sensitive data over the phone unless you initiated the call.

Consider Alternatives if Money Is Tight

- In-kind donations — such as clothing, supplies, or equipment can be just as valuable.
- Volunteering your time or skills is another meaningful way to support a cause.

Avoid Sending Cash.

- Use a check or credit card and make payments payable directly to the nonprofit organization, not to an individual.
- Always request a receipt for your records.

Confirm How Your Donation Will Be Used

- Ask whether your contribution will support a specific program or be used for general operations.
- Clarify whether a portion of your donation will go to fundraising fees or administrative costs.

Check for Transparency

- Reputable organizations provide clear information about their leadership, finances, and impact.
- Look for annual reports and audited financial statements.

Trust Your Instincts

- Most legitimate charities are eager for you to research their cause, if something feels off or inconsistent, step back and verify before donating.
